6. Rules and Protocols

The Keyholder is responsible for safely managing the device, maintenance schedule, and timelines through clear communication and steady emotional support. They must prioritize the submissive person's physical and psychological well-being, adjusting the arrangement as needed while strictly avoiding using control as a weapon.

The wearer must wear the device properly, honestly, and immediately report any physical pain or emotional distress, and redirect denied energy into service and devotion. They must accept that release is earned rather than owed, trusting that denial is a meaningful expression of the shared dynamic.

7. Hygiene

The device will be removed for hygiene every _____ days (or as decided by the Keyholder) under the Keyholder's supervision.

During this time, the wearer will tend to personal hygiene, including cleansing, hair removal, and moisturizing.

8. Sexual Release

The wearer is permitted a maximum of _____ ejaculations/orgasms per _____ days and must not otherwise self-stimulate. Requests for other gratification will not be granted.
